ASK CLEMENCY

of Petersburg Come to See Governor.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, VA., June 13 .- A committee of prominent citizens went to Richmond this morning to present a peti-tion to Governor Swanson, asking for the pardon of Robert Trainor, the colored porter, sentenced to one year in the pen-Stentlary for the larceny of a bale of cotton from the commission house of Arrington and Green, the well known ease, in which A W Harris, the colored lawyer, was tried for implication, his prosecution being discontinued after a stubborn legal contest. The petition for Trainor's pardon is signed by a large number of Petersburg merchants, and it is urged that the negro was influenced SUDDEN DEATH.

While sitting at the supper table with his family last night, Mr. Thomas Francis Payne, a well-known and respected tailor in this city, was stricken with apoplexy, and fell over on the table, and died in a few minutes. He was apparently in his usual health, and had just returned from a meeting of Powhatan Tribe of Red Men.

Mr. Fayne was seventy-three years old, and is survived by two sons and two daughters.
Howard Somers, the Clarement boy whose skull was fractured and legs broken by being caught in beitting in Shelton's box factory, at that place, last Thursday afternoon, died at the Home for the Sick here last night. Immediately after the acident, young Somers was except on two occasions, when imperative business called a member away.

Two and sometimes three sessions have been held daily, the work at each session having consumed from seven to ten hours. During the investigation more than fifty witnesses have been examined, and in several instances the same witness was recalled seven or eight times in order that the fullest light might be shed upon the affairs of the hospital.

The official record will contain about 6,000 pages of typewritten matter, without taking into consideration the report, which will probably be written and acted upon in Williamsburg or Richmond during the latter part of August, when the members of the committee will be reassembled.

house. He said he did not account had family was not at home. He asserted that he had never used hospital supplies for his own use.

Chairman Sadler questioned witness closely regarding trips made by Sential Boyd Sears in the hospital conveyances. Dr. Foster said that Senator Sears had once used the hospital carriage, but that Judge Garnett, a member of the board, was with him.

Chairman Sadler endeavored to make the witness say that the Legislature was slow to act, but Dr. Foster declined to confirm the assertion.

Ho sald, in answer to a question, that he did not criticise the Legislature for "doing for" the negro hospital, it could not do too much, but it should do as much or more for the whites.

Heavy Expenses.

The expense of the investigation, it is said, will reach $7.000, but the amount is small when it is considered how farreaching the examination has been, and the probable happy results to all asylums in the State that will follow.

There seems to be four undisputed facts brought out by the host of wilnesses who testified:

First. That Dr. Foster is an able and intelligent superintendent, who is active in the discharge of his duties.

Second. That the asylum needs larger appropriation for its proper maintenance.
Third. That the negro insane have fared better at the hands of the Virgina in the discharge of his duties.

Fourth. That the hands of the Virgina in the discharge of his duties.

There is no doubt but that these facts will be properly reported to the General Assembly, that proper attention will be given them, and the evils will be remedied.

Dr. Henderson said he thought there was no occasion for this. He said the superintendent very seldom asked him to go through the wards with him. Sometimes he met the superintendent on the wards and they went through together.

Dr. Henderson said he came to Williamsburg with Clowes on the first Sunday in September, 1963, and took dinner at the Colonial Inn. He said Clowes introduced him to Mr. Spencer, but did not say, in his presence, that ne would other next superintendent of Eastern State Hospital.

Dr. Henderson said: "I am certain that Dr. Henderson said. Tail can the no such introduction took place."
"I never came here with the idea of being superintendent; I never had the inducement held out to me, and I have no desire or idea of attempting to gain no desire or idea of attempting to gain Dr. Foster's position."

Colonel Lawless attempted to cross-examine the witness regarding hospital affairs, but he declined to answer, because he said his answers would be hear-say. Colonel Lawless pointed out that most of his testimony had been hear-say.

He testified that conditions on the formale side were good.

Dr. Southall was recalled. He said the hours of duty of the male patients, its said he did not know what salary they received. They should get $30 a month. The mills paid that and the best men went to the mills instead of coming as attendants to the hospital.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION. Governor Sends Letter of Regret, But Full of Spirit.

But Full of Spirit.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., June is.—More than one thousand teachers have already arrived for the sessions of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly and Summer School, which convened last night at the Agricultural and Mechanical College. One of the principal features of the session this morning was to have been an address by Governor Glenn, this to be followed to-night by a reception in honor of the teachers at the Governor's Mansion to-night. Instead of the address the Governor sent a letter of regret, which was read to the assembly and received with great enthusiasm. In the letter the Governor expressed regret at not beingable either to appear in person before the assembly this morning or be present. In high at it.—reception at the mansion, which, however, would be given as though he were present and participating.

Other features of the session to-day was addresses by Dr. C. Alphonso Smitt, of the University of North Carpillina, and Miss Celesta Parrish of the Georgia State Normal School.

During the afternoon, there were sessions of the North Carolina Association of Primary Teachers.

To-night President W. T. Whitsett delivered his annual address, and thereafter the teachers repaired to the Governor's Mansion for the reception in honor of the assembly.
